I wouldn't normally go long range with them, unless doing hit and run on city to the barracks/airstrip.I found that when the obelisk is gone, go ontop of the building by the hand and hitting the top of the hand is a good way to get points and such. This is kindive rare though, since the Hand is usually gone before the Obelisk. Unless they relise that in most games on City/City_Flying that the obelisk is usually NEVER mined, making it a really easy target to kill right off the bat.
