I still think cheap sydney is lame- sure splash and chemical damage. But consider the bullets are bright shiny green and fly at you at the speed of a mammy. You dont exactly have to be neo to dodge it. Infact the only thing unable to dodge is probably a mammy, and considering its armor and auto rofles cheap anti armor performanceeverything is effective against a hummer- a sniper does 30 damage to a hummvee!Ok maybe the topic would be easier to understand if i said least cost-effective unitThen maybe sakura - i am a cheap sniper. I can only hit stationary or infantry moving directly towards me. And for bot of these targets headhits are not too difficult, so why pay the extra 500 bucks?Maybe mobius - i dont really like him either- lasr chaingun or even stealth is better. its too risky paying 1000 and then chargin into a tankfield with snipers and hoping to get your money back..... Its range sucks as well.U know the laser chaingun isnt actually as damaging to tanks as the rocket launcher officer. But it is easier to use.....hmmmmmmmm
