then try to defend the buildings. Mine each entrance and watch out for approaching enemies, while your teammates try to destroy the opposing base. Run from one building to another to ensure the mines are still there and to encounter the possible threat. You can also try to slip with only one tech/hotty into the enemy base and to destroy one of theirs. Always keep in mind that there should be some people defending base, so if everyone rushes out stay in base and defend it! And also the other way round, so if you see 5 hotties among your mates then attack.
