

---

Subject: Oldest Trick in the book

Posted by Anonymous on Wed, 30 Oct 2002 03:47:00 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Agreed BadBender. This should this is the riskiest trick in the book. Only a n00b will try and steal it from the front or the back. Any player with a little skill will enter it from the side leaving your tactic useless. You also have the risk of the player killing you. If you are in a vehicle and he's not, why get out? You should be able to kill him since you have the firepower and you can run him over. There is no need for you trick and it's very risky. quote: If your having problem with a close unit near your vehicle.. ..you need to practice some more. quote:...works EVERY time Playing against n00bs, offcourse it will. greetings,Justifier

---