Been a while and I figured I'd try it again. The rules have been changed and if anyone further has any problems with them, then feel free to post them here. the current web address for the league site is:<http://infantry-league.tripod.com>constructive criticism only please...because if you sit there and say I'm a moron...well...what does it say about you if you have nothing better to do than talk to a moron?
