My team is usually n00bs, so I buy an APC and I drive around the base saying "Get in the vehicle!" and the n00bs just stand there or shoot at me...so I end up going by myself, and 9 times out of 10 I take out the building. My APC usually gets stolen, but its because the enemy n00bs are more interested in my APC or humvee than stopping me that I am left alone to destroy their building. The n00b enemies usually rush at our base with the stolen APC without even repairing it...and then the base defense or infantry blow them up before they even get in...always amusing.
