
Subject: Attack in force - not Piece meal...

Posted by Anonymous on Wed, 21 Aug 2002 05:46:00 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Basic rule of war - "ALWAYS attack in force" I cant tell you how many times i've seen one person in a APV/APC go off by themselves...to their doom -- and usually - the same friendly vehicle comes back FULLY loaded with enemy sappers.... or the lone engie running through the tunnels - and they encounter six foot soliders? When i'm on a good team player server - and we make a LARGE war party - we usually mow right through the token resistance - and sap our target.IE. - on Mesa - 11 gunners hitting the Nod refinery after first Harvy will result in one less Nod building.... Now - being a Stealth usually means you work alone - right? --- WRONG - grab a couple of other stealth's and have sniper support - multiple beacons on the same building at multiple locations - well - poof there goes the target... Ask yourself these questions:Would a ST rush work with just one or more?Would a engie rush work with one or more?How many times have you been on a team that had one or two buildings left - and you held off the other team - because they came at you ONE AT A TIME?Tips -Listen to your team - group together and "Plow the Field" - you will get more kills and win the game.Concentrate your fire on one target then shift to another --- always go for the more dangerous target first.The harvy is not that dangerous -- the MA's/MRLS are... (Mesa - all tanks break off attack to hit harv in the tunnel - Use PIC's/Ravies - Gunners/BHCG to get them....)In conclusion:If your a lone wolf in a vehicle or on foot - you will surely go "boink" - (or spam the comms with "I need repairs")Now of course - there are situations that require you to be alone -- very RARE i think...Speaking of which - as stated before by better players than me - ALWAYS go into your vehicle as an engie -- and ALWAYS repair the others when your vehicle get's blown up.... - being a point monger will not win the team over... Most you know this - some of you dont -- make the difference..... StoneRook out....PS - YSLMUFFINS/YSLCHEESE - watch out for her! - she will hand you your head on a plate....One of the Most Excellent team players i've had the privilage to work with.. [August 21, 2002, 05:51: Message edited by: StoneRook]
