Interesting tactic -needs teamwork -- lacking in most servers...also - the BD'ers on the game would block you from gaining access to the rear door with their own APC and stop allow the obi/sappers to destroy you - if there any good.Plus - the HoN should be mined to prevent the enemy sappers from coming in.... Which means that the mines are spread out to take out multiple sappers incoming...but of course - this defense requires teamwork also...To improve on this tactic - you should have MULTIPLE points of attack --- say 2 APV's running in from seperate directions...Best case - you seperate the defenders and be attacked by less force ---Worst case - your base is undefended from the same thing....
