Don't want to be seen by the cheat skins. Not true. I was just playing a game last night and I was a Havoc and I was on a sniper point and I could see a bunch of NOD's running all around there turret repairing it and stuff....then I looked around a little more and I saw some sorta shimmer standing still I was like obv stealth.....so I shot and killed and got accused of cheating....which of course wasn't true cuz that's bull crap to cheat...specially at a game like this where at any given time a reasonably logical person could become mvp....but anyway later on in the game I was at the same point and a SBH walked up from behind and popped me laser style in the head killing me.....told me he walked right in front of me and then right behind me.....so the fact with the SBH is it's all crap luck if you see one cloaked.
