I was playing on field as Nod. GDI had three mammys blocking our base entrance.I was doing the Raver thing.Then some IDIOT got out of theyre mammy.I whacked him with the railgun and stole his tank.I fell back behind the other mammys,and nudged them into obby range. My new toy,the oby and the other ravers made sort work of the other two.It wasnt long before a couple more mammys cam rolling into our base...but the oby didnt fire.Yup. We now had a total of three stolen mammys.GDI lost simply because there were TEN vehicles pounding theyre base. Four of those being the mammys and an MRLS some lucky stealth picked up.
