SgtZim: I don't frequent any one particular server, just the lowest pinging ones.   Actually, I was on mutants server last night. Man, that was close game. It was the map where the tibernium field is shared between the two bases. Any ways, GDI was pounding the crap out of us. Our airstrip and refinery were gone. Any ways, this guy (starts with a c, crim-something or other) stole a Humvee. I join up with him and we head for GDI's power plant as 2 engineers and we make it in! Unforunately, the clock hit 0 at that point.   Oh well.Supertech
