This one time on field, Nod was pounding us with Arts. We had a fair sized tank group at the entrance, and NO ONE would attack. So I grabbed a Med and a hottie, and charged like a maniac. I destroyed all three Arts, ignoring the infantry inside them. An LCG BH finally broke my tank, and I threw my remotes and times around, and pulled out my loaded pistol (do that every time before leaving base, folks) and popped a few enemies. Finally, someone said, "hey, someone help that guy out in the field" (I'm not lying) and I led that charge.Firing my pistol at another LCG, I led those mammies, meds, and MRL's. We eventually won. If I had an extra set of hands I would have typed "affix bayonets!" in F2 whilst pistol blasting.
