Not sure if I remember everything correctly but I am almost positive that last night on Canyon. (such an unfair map for Nod IMHO) our airstrip got pound from the 50 million mammals out there and I know, just know, that we are going to lose it, so I got in, bought a tank and here is the kicker: I think the airstrip got blown up but my tank still arrived! Not sure how it happened, maybe just lag, I was really shocked.
