I don't care if you "know" all the stealths are dead or you "know" you can see them coming up. People can't watch everything in the game and can't guard their vehicle against stealths (even if you are cheating and using a neon pink stealth hack skin). I have stolen a lot of vehicles from people that thought they were safe or people that thought all BHs were dead. You are not safe unless you have auto cover fire from your base defenses.
