Hmm there are lots of places to repair from in the HoN tho...you have the 2 hallways, the ramp, and standing up above...I guess you could move out in front of the mct, making their repair beam hit you, while you shoot them They would probably throw remote c4 at you...but as long as you distract them long enough for the timed to go off the building is gone...just dont be close enough to the mct for your own timed c4 to own you
