This is a kind of 'side-effect' of normal playing. If you're on the battlefield, sooner or later u wil have to repair your tank (usually the team is to dumb to do so), so get out, repair for 3 sec, get in dirve away and so on. By doing this, many enemies will rush to your tank in the hope of stealing it, also SBHs. Many times they get killed, always fun to see a depressed SBH kadaver in front of the tank when you get in (i know that kadavers can't be depressed anymore...)But if you shoot constantly on the ground it's also not very hard to kill the infantry, beacuse of splash damage... But you have to have some sort of aiming
