You can get a cheap, but not to cheap, vehicle (buggy, apc, MA, etc.) and set proxies all over it (5 for buggy, 7 for apc, 9 for MA, etc.) then leave it in the road (tell your team not to take it) have the back towards the enemy base and put a few mines in front of it. the enemy steals it (hopefully a $1000 enemy) and trys to go forward towords your base, but the tank explodes. But he'd probally still be going strait, and he'd hit the other mine and die. It works about half the time usually on noobs. What you think
