after reading all these cool moments all I have is a small but extremely cool moment! I was GDI. We were outnumbered badly. My team was on the attack and we were all in a trasport heli. our heli was coming underfire when apaches attacked the heli driver told us to jump. we landed on the heli pad on the hand of nod and my team jumped in. nod was everywhere and with the endbecon pedistal in site we charged in. with guns blazing we smashed in. The defenders crushed everyone but me and my friends who is hotwire. he placed a beacon on the pedistal only to be killed by a shotgun trooper. I killed him then waited for more they just kept coming. A flamethrower guy kept coming in and jumping around he then stood still and I type dogde this! then killed him with a pistol. Then I jumped out the window only to have the ion stike crush the base! one of my friends was on nod and saw everything he later called me the the one!
