I like how in a game last night, a Sydney not only saw my stealth tank from far outside the normal viewing range of an infantry unit, but one of my clanmates was on my team and he was a stealth hand walking out of our base on Field and he got sniped right away. He wasn't doing anything, he was cloaked, and there was no one else the sniper was shooting at so he didn't just accidentally get in the way or anything, he was seen and killed by this same person.
