And I have never heard of AimBots for Renegade. However, I have heard about something known as "Good aiming skills". Btw, watch the red bars appearing on your screen, you may be being attacked from many sides. Plus, something I've noticed many times: When you shoot someone, they will lose health, but won't see it after a while. Sometimes when I'm sniping, I miss the head and hit the lower body. Then just quick reload and again, they didn't have time to move an inch... I've seen it happen even with auto-rifle: I had full health and was repairing a building. All-of-a-sudden, my armor is gone and health drops to 60. Then I try to run, but get boinked right away. Yes, with an auto-rifle... [Btw, this is my longest post ever]
