Biggest * fluke I ever got was when I was sitting in the level, Field. And I am behind a hill, and everything is quite. 10 Player game, nobody is around. I assume people are saving up money, I am on GDI. My side is in the tunnels, so I am just sitting there as a sniper. Get bored, so I start shooting random rounds off in places. I get 3 rounds off till I hear "Boink." Sure enough a stealth guy falls down dead...One more was when I was a grenadier in the city level. And I dont see anybody on the bridge, and I didnt notice but there was a wounded Nod soldier runing below, and I shot a grenade round off and I hit him. And he died. Those are the only two flukes I have ever gotten. They were pretty funny thought.
