who knows, but if you explain it right, its worth a shot. The really good players would get it right for sure. It make take 10 minutes to explain to thm how to do it, if they are willing, and if it takes that long to explain, I would hope that they go to the PT to read the discusson over again sigh silly n00bs..Thanks for the feedback, you got 2 good points, but I am gonna try to use it someday if I'm on a team that uses teamwork
