Something the enemy sticks there becon in a place where it is aimed to destory tank, kill infantry quickly, the first thing I see is a big message saying "The becon is out side the base so fall back untill it goes off" then I decide to go and disarm it and while I am I'm getting messages saying "You *ing n00b get back befor you are killed" well I think that anyone that says this is the n00b them self because you get (I think) 500 points for disarming one.It seems a very simple tactic to work out on gaining points but noone has ever came to help me disarm a becon soone has placed and left so please disarm a becon if you can (regardless of whre it is.)
