Here is a question for the TOTAL NOOB who buys a Flame tank and leaves it out in the open...WHAT IF THE WERE YOU THINKING???? Situation: our base(Nod) was under attack and this individual bought a flame tank and just left it to repair the Hand of Nod. I made my break to get in the tank and was too late(BOINK!!!!!!) A GDI soldier got into it and destroyed our Air Strip because he blocked the door and no engines could get in to repair. And most of our base was out "Cowboying the Nation" When your off on your own and hear that your base is under attack maybe you should think to yourself "SELF... maybe I should go back and help?"In closing... Please when you buy a tank of any kind(GDI or Nod) get in the freakin thing! I know that you were trying to save the base but all you did was kill it more!!!
