I have 2 storys.-----A while ago, i had played in a chain of games w/ 20v20 and i was MVP every game so almost every one did what i said. so in walls flying, i had a great idea. first i sent a trans heli full of med level chacters to the center of the nod air strip (i was GDI) about 10 nod forses came to intercept before we all died i said "NOW!!!!!!!!!!!" over the "all" chat system thing and little did the nod know that i had stationed 2 $1000 characters on every building. 1 on each set a becon while the other came to help us. the nod didnt know what hit them when all the becons killed them all.-----the other story is like this: i was playing islands and we started w/ 300 creds. i bought a buggy while my team was waitin for some more cash. i drove into there base and someone ran out to kill me but i squished him and 12 others. then they bought a mammy and drove around trying to catch me but i weakend him so the driver (hotwire) jumped out and repaired it stupid! i just stole the mammy, killed there base, and became MVP.
