My son was playing on NOD, C&C Field map, and they were seriously under seige by 2 mammies, several med tanks, and a couple of apc's. As time was running out, he bought a buggy, became a techie, and proceeded to cover the buggy with prox mines. It was a completely futile gesture, but it was very funny to watch him fly over the ramp next to the hand, rip around the corner and smash headlong into a couple of apcs with a huge explosion.
