I found that the basic soldier works well against choppers. You side only lose 1 point to the chopper but even if you did not shot it down you will get at least 10 points. Once in a game I even shot down an Apache by myself using an Automatic rifle. I do not know why people always come close and use machine gun to shoot at you while in chopper. The targeting box range is very short for chopper and Soldier Chain gun LCG BH stealth Snipers are good.
