The best tactic is on walls. When you are Nod, and everyone has bought a helicopter, despite you saying "BUY TANKS" buy a stealth tank and nip into the GDI base, which is undefended because they all have copters. There is a point on the power plant where you are hidden from view by the chimney and the walls. Sit there, uncloak and blast away. Using this tactic, against a really stupid team, I destroyed their barracks and the power plant, without either one being repaired, or me being attacked.
