Having the advanced communications array or the temple of nod as new buildings would be great, but you'd hafta make them super strong! strong enough to withstand one or two of these attacks....And just like when the airstrip or barracks is destroyed, their units are also taken away.. cept this time it would be the beacon...Man.. where were you guys earlier in the boards? I had said this earlier and some guy came up to me saying it was the stupidest thing he'd ever heard of and that I should be shot... he's the only one that has rated me and.. well, look at that rating!
