That's easy. Move up to first rock, let obelisk cool down.   Move to second rock, let it cool down again, then move right up beside refinery, stay against the wall, and the Obelisk does not see you. You're home free if you place your c4 beside it and if you haven't already been spotted. I also think there's a way to jump through the little crack there at the ledge at the back of the refinery.
