What a great country...oh wait!Thanks PN - but we have a problem Houston I've noticed that the server seems to drop off the listings after about an hour.I joined the server and just hung around, hoping it would keep it visible - which it did - but obviously that'll unbalance the sides/leech bandwidth etc. if I don't play.Does anyone know how to keep the server listed, or does it drop zero player games after time to allow more servers to be shown? Interested to know how to work around this, as I've kept the server "on" for 48 hours without anyone joining.I won't give up mind you, this is a worthy cause
