Nate,How is westwood doing us a favor by allowing "free" servers. They don't have servers (other than beta that is), the servers are all run by fans. I assure you my server is not free, I have a separate machine plus a very expensive high end DSL connection to pay for every month. I am happy that they chose to release the dedicated server to the public but that is much cheaper for them than to have to have their own server farm and bandwidth.
