The fact that the remote c-4 counts towards the total count really SUCKS!! As a Hotwire sometimes u have to use them to keep yourself alive or finish off a building, since you only have a whimpy little pistol. Either they shouldn't count or the count should be higher. So next time you see mines disappearing think that possibly it's not because another person is randomly laying mines, maybe they're using remote c-4 to save their life or destroy enemy buildings. Just some food for thought.
