Westwood can't seem to solve the problem. It does this when I host through my actual retail game too. I wonder if anyone can help. Email me your email address to haroutetoot@attbi.com and I will email you a copy of my DXDIAG.txt. Although that is hardly the case because it does this no matter which computer I try to host it on in my house. We are set up with a router and a firewall but I have opened ALL of the ports AND if I hot plug the cable modem to my machine it still has the same problem.   Can anyone help?
