Subject: kills vs points......

I usually get 10x more kills than anybody in the game. The funny thing is, our flame tank slowly roasts buildings, just having a good time, and I'm out there in a stealth or light tank shooting and blasting and smooshing and killing, holding off all of them while he has a cookout. I won the game, he got all the points. Reasons like that are why I don't care about ladder crap anymore, it's too off in this game. All it does is promote rambo's and discourage the things that really need done. Oh, and I like exterminating enemies
