I agree the ending is a bit short. And it kinda annoyed me that the people you are supposed to protect run ahead of you and get their asses shot off, I could kinda understand when morbius (can't spell his name properly) runs ahead in his power suit and is armed with a laser chain gun, except he doesn't use it properly, but when Sydney does it.. .Would have liked to have been given the chance to fire a couple of shots at Kane, but they have now given themselves room to make a sequel if they want to, which I hope they do
