They own every other tank in the game. Meds are a pain sometimes though because they have enough speed to keep away by backing up, and enough firepower to kill you.Dosent matter, I have save my base tons of times from flame ruschs. How i stay alive is i stay at a doorway shooting engys that are repairing the flamers then i take out the tanks and when am damaged i just buy a refill. And if you have your team repairing the buildings they wont even destroy a single building using that tactic.
