after the defenses are down? heck, the flame tank is the one that takes the defenses down. i've done it several times with a 2 flame tank rush. the enemy doesn't always have ready defensive troops to stop you. and once you get close to the agt, it can't fire on you. sure many times it fails, but if nothing else it might put the other team on the defensive so you can concentrate on their harvester while they're pinned inside the base....
