Remember C4 has a 30 second detonation timer on it. And that remote C4 can be placed on enemy tanks etc, and detonated when you want, so ie, use it as a trick/distraction, if they return to their base and you detonate it, they might start looking for the enemy around that area. And remember the timing of the Obelisk when infiltrating a nod base, duck and hide when it charges up, wait about 5 seconds then run and keep repeating this until you reach your desired location.
