Last night a buddy drove an APC and I made a Hotwired. We drove straight to the Obelisk. The thing gets destroyed just as we reach the Obelisk so I just run in, he starts shooting anyone trying to get near. I set my 2 timed C4 first and then Unload the rest of my C4 anything all over the MCT. He and I made it out and back to base to do it all over again. I'm really not sure why that tower did not get destroyed but I got 3 kills while walking back to the base. That was really an adrenaline rush. The second time we had 2 hotwired but NO Obelisk destroyed. Seeing as that was my first time trying that technique I'm thinking I don't quite have it down yet. Can't wait to try it again.
