I am a harvester killer. The first thing I do when I got into a game is charge to the bunker or somewhere you can see the harvester and shoot at it like crazy. By the time you ammo run out you would scored over 100 points and lots of money. If possible I will go and get the crate and keep shooting at the harvester. The other team will fall behind in points and money. By the time I got mammoth, med, light,stealth tank or artillery. The opponent's harvest does not make back to their base. Killing harvester is very important and I do it every time.
