I got into a 2 on 2 game the other night and Oh man is that a different game. Thanks for the tips, the other team I was playing against were very good. It seemed like they were working well together as it was always the same 2, me on the other people ducked out every game because that team kept winning. I wanted teamwork but noone who joined my side wanted to work together. WTF is the point of playing a 2 on 2 game and NOT working together?
