Hahaha silly stealth tanks, i myself love the idea of being cloaked and sneaking across the map on city but the stealth lacks armor making it an easy target, lately i have never seen a stealth tank drive up behind a med tank and blow it up, with turret lock on the cannon just swings around and pounds the crap out of the stealth, and if the stealth gets to close to the tank the missiles shoot right over it. Infantry are very hard to get with a stealth tank{at least on a 10 on 10 map} because 1. people are pretty good now adays and will probably hear the stealth tank behind them, or they turn around a lot and will see you coming and if its a gunner your screwed because it take about 2 clips to finish of the stealth tank, that * thing moves to slow to squish a unit if they see you so you have to use the inaccurate missiles in hopes that you will kill him first. Infantry see stealth tanks to well making it near impossible to kill people with them.
