From what i have seen so far this Entire forum is a good place to ask questions and share your knolege with other people that our intrested in Modding now natrually Ack Has to put his two cents in when in all rerality although her may be good with moding thus far the best help ive seen from him on any forum was very small "not saying this to be mean i think a lot of his maps our good" however if you feel people talk to much stop reading it and go work on your mod. your not the boss of these people and as far as i know we dont get paid for this witch mean we can do it at our own pace and in our own time.
