quote:You put the original .dds file in a photo editing program(make sure you have the .dds plug-in), edit it, then save it as .dda and throw it into the data folder. Is this what you are trying to find out? No. I've read all those basic skinning tutorials and all they do is tell me how to re-colour existing skins. I wanna create NEW skins, for my NEW vehicles (with the emphasis on NEW).
