W3D Importer's beta current state:---Ok, just noticed I didnt fixed a bug where proxies with trailing numbers after the ~ would'ntshow up in the Proxies list.Fixing it right now, will be fix for the next release.Also in next release you will be able to save and export as well. I have block the save andexport options to make sure the beta version won't be able to export or save locked w3dfiles. Once I'm done writing the password protection code, saving and exporting will beenabled.Abjab [October 19, 2002, 22:52: Message edited by: Abjab]
