I am encouraging the mappers to become involved in fan map day. I feel that the support of the people who actually do the work is essential to making this an even bigger hit. The next day of "Host a new map day" will be Sat. Oct. 12th. I need your help to make this a success. Please respond with any suggestions so that I can relay to the admins of the servers. I would also like your help in participating in a chat to get and give props and helpfull suggestios that the community might make in what we would like to see in the future.Thank You
