I used to be in the airforce, and at the end of the day, (of heavy flying) there was this smoke that emanated from the end of the runway, i thought that i might bring the airstrip a little reality of the C130 doing a stop and drop and have a little steam blowing off the end and as far as the silent strike dev team goes, im not sure, i just know i am doing the AI, the website, and the final touches to the maps?Dante
