SuperFlyingEngi, you're the only person here who thinks they're stupid/retarded.

Right, a 50 some foot high tank walking on two legs being able to easily fire a 120mm cannon, which is powerful enough to lift the side of a 60 ton tank several inches off of the ground when it's fired, while moving isn't retarded.

Quote:It is a part of the game, so you had to make it work the way the engine would let you.

This has nothing to do with engine limitations.
