spoonyrat! I'm supposed to give evidence to show Mahkra DIDN'T tell me "infantry only" during that game? How, exactly? A screenshot of every second from the point he joined until the time I was kicked? The simple fact is he said no such thing, either in public chat or PM. He says otherwise, and guess what, he's lying to you. (Or more likely, he's just even more confused than usual).

Of course it's impossible to get pictures of every second of every game without a video capture program running in the background or some other ridiculous means. The fact of the matter is, your only defence is that "WEL GES WAT U BAND ME CUZ I OWNT U" when in fact, is kind of humorous in principle, because you're just assuming that because you weren't given a reason until recently.

I would trust Mahkra unequivocally over you, mainly because he is an honest person. And that is from personal experience. You on the other hand, and I type this with the utmost honesty, are just another ignorant whiny "victim" of the Banhammer. And no amount of you saying "WTF HE BAND ME CUZ I OWNT HIM LOUL HE SED NUFIN" will change that.

Quote: Also, I'm not seeing how my statements about tank fighting is logically flawed. If you can match me up against someone who'll beat me 1v1 on field (THE tankskill map for 1v1's) who isn't from CW, I'll admit I was wrong in what I said. Until then, I'll just have to go by my 1v1 record. That's probably near 1000 games, of which I doubt I've lost more than twenty.

I have no personal interest in proving you wrong (if indeed you're telling the truth), but I do find it awfully obnoxious of you to think that you're unbeatable, save a series of insolent twits.

Quote: For your information, the point where you completely humiliated yourself was when you quoted me three times pointing to something I never actually said.

Except for the fact that you, well, you know, DID say it. Idiot. Don't believe me? Check the 3rd page. It's nicely placed out for you. Thereby, your analogies are irrelevant, because you, you know, DID say it.
